The news comes on the heels of widespread acclaim for her recently released song “god bless our souls.” Get it HERE and watch the video HERE! Among a bevy of praise, Idolator applauded it as “a synth-pop treasure,” and Ones to Watch praised how she “blessed the world with a means to spiritual enlightenment.” Meanwhile, Paper Magazine touted it on “Bops Only: 10 Songs You Need to Start Your Weekend Right.” The outlet enthusiastically added, “The song’s melodramatic edge and twisty melodies are what truly sell it.”

With magnetic presence, otherworldly energy, and dynamic performance, her live show unfolds as an equally unforgettable experience as well. She just wrapped up a successful run supporting LÉON on the You And I Tour in the direct support slot.

Ultimately, Morgan elevates pop to a new realm in 2019 on tour and beyond.

Morgan Saint unleashed her sophomore EP, ALIEN [Epic Records], last fall and continues to turn heads. In a recent piece, Ones To Watch just described her as “the Left-of-Center pop star of your dreams,” and Interview conducted an in-depth profile. Idolator summed up ALIEN best as “an otherworldly, synth-pop adventure.” With a hypnotic vulnerable delivery, elevated presentation that defies gender and genre alike, and inimitable je ne sais quoi, she earned widespread acclaim from the New Yorker, Vogue, Pigeons & Planes, Time, NME, WWD, i-D, Harper’s Bazaar, Galore, and Paper who exalted her among “100 Women Revolutionizing Pop.” She ignited the stage at Lollapalooza and Life Is Beautiful in addition to captivating audiences with the likes of lovelytheband.

Born and raised on Long Island, Morgan Saint learned piano and taught herself guitar during her formative years. Graduating from Parsons New School for Design, she gravitated towards music and artists who weren’t afraid to be themselves.
