

ZARA LARSSON RELEASES NEW SINGLE & MUSIC VIDEO “LOVE ME LAND”

HIGHLY ANTICIPATED SECOND INTERNATIONAL ALBUM COMING SOON

(July 10, 2020 – Los Angeles, CA) – The pop superheroine the world needed returns right now...

Today, multiplatinum artist, singer, songwriter, and activist Zara Larsson is back with a new single and music video entitled “Love Me Land.” Get it HERE via TEN/Epic Records. This marks her first release of 2020.

On the track, an orchestral warbling chant rings out as she announces, “Here I am, lost in ‘Love Me Land’.” It flows right into a sexy bass line that reverberates under strings and her ecstatic falsetto before she urges, “Touch me in the way that you do, no matter who’s in the room, I see you sweating.” Co-written with the powerhouse team of Justin Tranter and Julia Michaels [Justin Bieber, Selena Gomez, Dua Lipa], the song integrates elements of discoball-ready Swedish pop into future-facing R&B.

Meanwhile, the music video matches the heat as she dances solo in a sparse cube straight out of a sci-fi fantasy. Tune in HERE at 7am PST/10am EST to watch the premiere!

About the single, she shared, "I wrote 'Love Me Land' with my friends Justin and Julia after a long period of writing for my sophomore international album. It felt like a kind of 'eureka' moment in understanding the journey I've gone on in discovering what it is to be a woman and an artist. The song is about accidentally falling in love but owning it, and I think that combines two things I love and do well - female empowerment and pop bangers! At the moment, we're all experiencing this scary unknown world and having to endure some hard realities; I hope this can provide a little escapism for everyone, because sometimes dancing can solve everything, even just for a moment."

The song paves the way for the arrival of her anxiously awaited second international album and what promises to be one of the biggest pop blockbusters of the year. Get ready...
