[December 5, 2013] A$AP Mob has released “Trillmatic,” the gritty lead single and video featuring A$AP Nast and legendary lyricist Method Man from their highly anticipated EP, L.O.R.D., set for a March 4, 2014 release on A$AP Worldwide/Polo Grounds Music/RCA Records.

The Jonah Schwartz -directed “Trillmatic” video made its national television broadcast debut on BET’s 106 & Park and can now be viewed on VEVO.com. Produced by Ty Beats, the “Trillmatic” single is currently available at iTunes, Amazon.com and select digital retailers.

Much like "Trillmatic," the overall style and feel of L.O.R.D. will be a throwback to 90's hip-hop with a twist that only A$AP Mob can execute. The EP will feature the entire Mob, inclusive of A$AP Rocky, A$AP Ferg, A$AP Nast, A$AP Twelvy and A$AP Ant. More details from the album will be announced shortly.

A collective of rappers, producers, video directors, fashion designers and models, A$AP Mob released their first mixtape, Lord$ Never Worry in August 2012 and embarked on the sold-out Long Live A$AP Tour the following month. A$AP Mob is currently on A$AP Ferg's first ever headlining Turnt x Burnt Tour, which hits their hometown on December 6th at New York City's Irving Plaza.
