“[‘Feel Right’ is] scintillating” - SPIN

“‘Feel Right,’ which delivers a kind of rap performance we haven’t seen in years in the mainstream: sparse, spare, rhythmically playful, devoid of extraneous doubling and delay throws, and playing with rhythm in a fresh way.” - Forbes

“‘Feel Right’ is a loose funk jam with jingling repetitive guitars, an instrumental horn bridge, and refrains from a backing chorus. Mystikal’s ease on the track, scratchy voice, and all of its moving parts come together to form the closest incarnation of James Brown we’ll be able to find in 2015 and perhaps beyond.” - Paste

“‘Feel Right,’ with its saucy brass and Mystikal’s downright nasty vocalization, most exemplifies the spirit of Uptown Special.” - AV Club
