[May 25, 2016 - New York , NY ] Today, R&B singer/ entertainer B. Smyth releases the video for his new track, "Gold Wrappers" ft. Rick Ross. Click here to watch.

The sexy and colorful visual, featuring Rick Ross and DJ Khaled was directed by Mike Ho (Chris Brown, Kid Ink, Mary J. Blige) and was shot in Miami, Florida.

"Gold Wrappers" ft. Rick Ross is the follow up to his infectious song "Creep" ft. Young Thug, which was his first release since signing with Mark Pitts' ByStorm Entertainment joint venture with RCA Records.

Singersroom describes B. Smyth as "[a] unique voice, which sounds like a mixture of August Alsina and Chris Brown," while XXL proclaims that " 2016 has the makings of what looks to be a breakout year for B. Smyth."

The 24 year-old Fort Lauderdale, FL native got his start performing covers of various popular tracks from artists like Usher, Trey Songz and Miguel and posting the videos on YouTube. The performances helped B. Smyth garner millions of views as well as notoriety. Since his emergence in 2013, he has worked with the likes of 2 Chainz and Future, among others. The talented singer has since been profiled by a variety of outlets including Teen Vogue, Complex, VIBE and The Source among others.
