Since bursting onto the music scene, MUNA has received great critical acclaim. Pitchfork said, “Singer Katie Gavin and guitarists Naomi McPherson and Josette Maskin sound deliciously accessible, but beyond the surface they ambush your heart with urgent ideas.” V Magazine stated, “By doing it all themselves, the three are able to fully infuse their message and emotions into their music, creating a consistent cathartic experience with every performance.” NYLON noted, “catchy pop with a big soul that somehow sounds simultaneously delicate and strong”. LA Times also praised, “Muna is brazen in its ambitions”.

Last month, MUNA announced their first-ever North American headlining tour in support of their debut album, About U. The tour kicked off this past Wednesday with a sold out show at LA’s Teragram Ballroom. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased HERE. See full list of tour dates below.

Members of MUNA, Katie Gavin (lead vocals/production), Naomi McPherson (production/guitar/synths/vocals), and Josette Maskin (lead guitar/vocals), have written and self-produced all of their own music to date. In November, the band also made their television debut performing “Loudspeaker” on The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon (Click HERE). Additionally, MUNA has been featured on Noisey, Ladygunn, Nylon, V Magazine, in Flood Magazine, and more. They performed at last year’s Lollapalooza, and have previously toured with BØRNS, Miiike Snow, Of Monsters and Men, St. Lucia, and Grouplove. In addition to their upcoming North American tour in support of their debut album, fans can also catch the band performing “I Know A Place” on Jimmy Kimmel Live! on February 6th, and this summer at Governors Ball in New York City.
