Shot at iFly in Ontario, California and directed by Malia James (Alessia Cara, Troye Sivan, Halsey), the innovative and futuristic video features world champion air dancers Inka Henriikka Tiitto and Amalie Hegland Lauritzen. The air dancing pair showcase their incredible skills by gracefully dancing in a wind tunnel with bursts of color, bringing “Waterfall” to life.

Released last Friday, “Waterfall” feat. P!nk and Sia has received outstanding critical response across the board including coverage in Fader, Pitchfork, and more with Entertainment Weekly selecting the song for their “Must List” upon release, proclaiming “[Stargate] kicks off the Song of the Summer race...with the help of labelmates Sia and Pink, who showcase their powerful pipes on this tropical banger” and Billboard declaring it “Effervescent...Stargate make a splash with ‘Waterfall’ ...a strong offering combining the songwriting expertise the duo has spent the past decade honing with their expert knack for piecing it all together. The song's infectious quality is anything but out of character for Stargate, leaving fans eager to see what else the duo has in store for us now that they've assumed their rightful positions in the driver's seat.”

“Waterfall” was co-written by Stargate, Sia, Diplo, and Jr. Blender.

Stargate has written and produced major records for Beyoncé, Rihanna and Coldplay to name a few, and will feature some of their favorite artists on their forthcoming music.

As lifelong fans of American popular culture, Stargate has created their own sound drawing equal inspiration from hip hop, electronic music and classic Scandinavian songwriting. They’ve been early pioneers in erasing the boundaries between electronic dance music and hip hop, and have become a mainstay of today’s worldwide musical landscape.

LA-based Stargate will surprise, excite and inspire both existing and new fans through their own new forthcoming music, which will feature new, up and coming artists, as well as some of today’s biggest superstars.
