[New York, NY - February 22, 2018] On the heels of announcing that he will join Big Sean’s “Unfriendly Reminder” tour this spring, Brooklyn-raised artist GASHI today releases a new track and accompanying video for “1134” via Honesty Saves Time/RCA Records. Click here to watch.

On the release of the track and video GASHI says: “This song is about me spending my whole life chasing my dreams and now that I’m getting closer and closer to making them come true there are so many people around me saying: ‘I wish I was in your position.’ But, they have no idea what’s on my mind and the things I deal with on a daily basis. The baby goats in the video are a statement on why society always waits for artists to die at a young age to consider them greats.”

"1134" follows GASHI's recent releases "Used To Be" and "No No No." Complex exclaims "The stars are aligning for GASHI...[with this] new banger..." on the release of "Used To Be" and "No No No" was featured on the Spotify "New Music Friday" billboard in Times Square upon release. The track has been streamed over 6 million times worldwide and has appeared on Spotify's Hot Rhythmic and Most Necessary playlists. Additionally, "No No No" was added into rotation on SiriusXM's Hip-Hop Nation.

GASHI has previously released other standout tracks including, "Turn Me Down," "24 Hours" and his breakout hit "Disrespectful," which have collectively garnered over 60 million streams worldwide.

With outlets like XXL calling GASHI "a multi-talented artist," Pigeons and Planes proclaiming "he's been on a roll," and VIBE declaring "...on his way to the major leagues....there's no stopping GASHI now" he is fortifying the groundwork to be one of music's breakout stars in 2018.
