[New York, NY – July 27, 2018] Today, rising singer and songwriter Elley Duhé shares “WAY DOWN LOW” from her forthcoming debut EP – DRAGON MENTALITY set for release on August 10th via A Creative Music Group/RCA Records. Click here to listen.

“WAY DOWN LOW” is written by Elley and produced by HazeBanga (Beyoncé, Mariah Carey, Selena Gomez).

On the release of “WAY DOWN LOW” Elley says: “I simply wrote ‘WAY DOWN LOW’ for us. All of us. Together. Never give up on yourself or on the good people in this world or the future. I don’t know much, but I do know better days are ahead for us all.”

The track comes on the heels of Elley’s recent feature on Zedd’s new single “Happy Now,” which was released to rave reviews. The track appeared at #3 on Spotify’s “New Music Friday” playlist upon release and is currently on Today’s Top Hits. In just over a week since release the track has been streamed over 4 million times worldwide across all digital service providers. “Happy Now” is a raw production from Zedd “...that gives way to a snappy dance groove that buoys Duhé’s nimble vocals... [riding] the memorable beat as Duhé croons in a gauzy, effects-drenched voice...” according to Rolling Stone. Billboard has declared the track to be a new “...sunny single...” for the duo. “Happy Now” follows Elley’s first release from DRAGON MENTALITY, “LOST MY MIND” which Hot New Hip-Hop notes Elley has “...a certain ‘Lorde-like’ quality a lot of singers are going for...[and] it works...” while Idolator deemed the single as “moody...relatable” and Elley’s “...best song to date” following her recent feature on Kid Ink’s “Us” from the Uncle Drew Official Soundtrack and the releases of her tracks “Fly”, “immortal”, and “Can You Touch”.

“Can You Touch” was produced by Rahki (Kendrick Lamar, Eminem, Mac Miller) and appeared on Spotify’s “New Music Friday” playlist upon release. It is also featured on NOW That’s What I Call Music Vol. 63.

Previous releases include “Fly” and Elley’s debut single “immortal.” “immortal” has been streamed 5 million times on Spotify and was met with great critical reaction upon release, with Billboard raving “[Elley’s] hauntingly beautiful vocals effortlessly flow throughout the track” and VIBE describing, “an electric, hip-hop influenced track that tells a story of empowerment...[with] captivating melodies that will give you goosebumps.”

“Fly” showcases Elley’s tremendous vocal talent and raw emotion, which FADER calls, “a groovy, Natasha Bedingfield-style track about freedom from pain” and NYLON proclaims “...starts off like a nostalgic pop trip but grows into a hand-clapping, blissful, R&B-tinged anthem. Duhé is someone to not sleep on.”

ABOUT ELLEY DUHÉ

Growing up in the small coastal town of Daulphin Island, Alabama, Elley Duhé always felt she was different from other kids her age. This pushed her towards the comfort of music and inspired a life-long passion for singing and songwriting. At the age of 14 Elley wrote her first song with a guitar she received as a gift from her father. She would gather with her family and have jam sessions with her dad and uncles, finding inspiration to create music from the deep southern art, food, and culture that surrounded her. Throughout her later teenage years, Elley began playing for live audiences and traveled extensively throughout Nashville, Austin and L.A. to perfect her songwriting skills. With her uplifting messages, powerful vocals and the upcoming release of her debut EP, Elley is an artist to watch in 2018.
