[New York, NY – October 27, 2017] – Long Island born and raised singer/songwriter/producer Jordan Bratton releases today his new mixtape, Driver's Ed via 1009 Records/Rebirth Records/RCA Records. Driver's Ed is available to stream and purchase at all digital service providers. The 11-track mixtape finds Bratton at his best, experimenting and combining traditional stylings of contemporary R&B ballads with the energy of gospel and a modern pop-rock twist. “Intro” kicks off the mixtape, a passionate confessional track driven by catchy sing-along melody that crescendos as Bratton’s delivery heightens. The danceable “Golden Eyes” sounds like it’s straight out of a classic hit Motown record and the modern gospel ballad “Family” is an inspirational ode to Bratton’s brothers and sisters.

Driver's Ed features previously released standouts including “Pieces,” “Sunsets,” “Spaces.” High Snobiety gushes about “Spaces,” saying that “the production sparkles, and the songwriting is on a level that most would be envious to get to several albums into their career.” The accompanying music video for “Spaces” also garnered praise, with Singers Room celebrating the “dramatic visual” that “brings Jordan’s storytelling to life as he highlights people and their struggles.” This Is RnB acclaims Bratton’s “Sunsets” as a “reflective” ode to his mother, featuring “undeniable vocal prowess and honest songwriting,” according to Variance. “Pieces” is a reverb-swaddled slow jam that DJ Booth calls “soulful” and Variance confesses is “addictive” and “infectious.”
