Today, Dave Matthews Band released a new version of "Come Tomorrow," the title track from its latest album, which debuted at No. 1 on the Billboard 200 and also took the No. 1 spot on the 2018 Current Rock Album Sales chart. While the original version of the song – praised by Billboard as "[an] irony-free plea for peace and hope for future generations" – featured exquisite backing vocals from three-time GRAMMY® Award winner Brandi Carlile, the new single finds the pair also trading lines on the second verse and shines a spotlight on their stirring harmonies in the chorus and bridge. The track was produced by Mark Batson and John Alagia. The single is now available on all streaming services HERE. View the animated lyric video for "Come Tomorrow" HERE.

Brandi Carlile said, "It was an honor to lend my voice to Dave Matthews Band's prophetic vision. Dave Matthews has one of the most iconic voices of our generation."

About Brandi Carlile:

Three-time GRAMMY Award-winning singer, songwriter, performer and producer Brandi Carlile is in the midst of a landmark year following the release of her GRAMMY-winning album, By The Way, I Forgive You. Produced by Dave Cobb and Shooter Jennings and recorded at Nashville's historic RCA Studio A, the album includes ten new songs written by Carlile and longtime collaborators and bandmates Tim and Phil Hanseroth, including "The Joke." Of her breakthrough performance of the song on the live GRAMMY broadcast, The New York Times proclaimed, "Carlile's vocals were robust, ragged, full of sneer and hope. On a night curiously light on impressive singing, it was an uncomplicated, genuine, cleansing thrill." Over the course of their acclaimed career, Carlile and her band have released six albums.
