On November 9th, Alan Walker is set to kick off his Aviation Tour with a career highlight, his first-ever performance at the Oslo Spektrum, the largest and most prestigious indoor venue in Norway. Walker will present his new show and gaming concept live in the Spektrum, bringing the World of Walker universe to the main stage.

"Avem (The Aviation Theme)" is a remake of "Norwegian Sunset," the theme song featured in the 1970s popular Norwegian film "Flåklypa Grand Prix." "Avem" is the focus track for Walker's concert experience, his Aviation game and gaming app to be launched in conjunction with the tour. "Avem" comes from the Latin word meaning "bird," referring to the flying Walker drones featured in the Walker imagery and gaming universe, and the slogan for this launch is "Let the games begin."

Comments Alan Walker: "I hope people enjoy my new version of the classic song which is so personally meaningful to me. The remake of "Flåklypa" brings back a lot of nice memories from my childhood and I hope many people will have the same experience when they hear it."
