Today, REZZ and Grabbitz share the music video for their new single “Someone Else,” out now on RCA Records. The visuals, directed by Cam McNeill, are an enthralling accompaniment to the song’s intense basslines and Grabbitz’s sneering vocal hook. A nod to the perils of technological escapism, the video’s protagonist resists the shackles of a warped, isolated reality, further amplified by the song’s propelling bassline. A product of COVID-19 self-isolation, REZZ and Grabbitz each shot their parts of the video on their iPhones and enlisted further help from their out of work touring teams in the editing process.

To coincide with the release of the “Someone Else” video, REZZ has also launched a filter through Instagram and Snap featuring her signature goggles. Try the filter on Instagram and Snap.

Alternative Press praised the song upon its release, including it as the lead track in their weekly playlist. They called the video “another high point in REZZ’s canon,” saying, “the song evokes a sinister groove that will appeal to dance music devotees as well as industrial rivetheads waiting patiently for a Nine Inch Nails tour.” Read REZZ’s interview with Alternative Press here: https://www.altpress.com/aptv\_video/rezz-grabbitz-someone-else-video-premiere

"Someone Else" isn't REZZ's first foray into the dance-rock realm. In 2019, she released "Falling" with UNDERØATH's Aaron Gillespie which SPIN praised for its “mechanical stomps and shrill synths.” Billboard has also attributed REZZ as being at the forefront of the dance and rock music crossover - read their story on this phenomenon: <http://bit.ly/2NI25kg>
