All of the music and videos from the AT HOME EP were arranged, recorded, produced and/or filmed during quarantine, including four additional music videos, which will be released weekly throughout the rest of June and July.

"Arranging and recording an EP's-worth of music and videos without once being in the same room as your bandmates or a producer was super challenging and definitely bizarre, but I know that collectively we were inspired by the strength, creativity and resourcefulness of people around the globe throughout the past months. We are so very proud to be able to share this music and these videos with our fans and can't wait for them to hear what else we've been up to!" - Scott Hoying
