

MILEY CYRUS
NEW ALBUM PLASTIC HEARTS OUT NOVEMBER 27TH

PRE ORDER NOW

October 22, 2020 – Today, Artist and trailblazer Miley Cyrus announced that her upcoming album Plastic Hearts will be released on November 27th via RCA Records.

Pre order here now and receive three instant grat tracks, including Miley's summer hit, "Midnight Sky," and her critically acclaimed live covers of Blondie's "Heart of Glass" and The Cranberries' "Zombie," which are being referred to as the dawn of Miley Cyrus' best era, with her voice being hailed as perfectly suited for Rock & Roll. These raw and raucous renditions of classic hits that Miley has made her own are a taste of what is to come with her seventh studio album, Plastic Hearts, that includes 12 original songs.

Iconic Rock & Roll photographer, Mick Rock, shot Miley's cover art which embodies the music and exemplifies Miley's sound. Adding her to the list of legends Mick has photographed over the years including David Bowie, Lou Reed, Iggy Pop, Joan Jett, and Debbie Harry. Miley's personal handwritten message below contextualizes her album and the inspiration behind it.

Read the letter here

If you're reading this know that I fucking LOVE + APPRECIATE you on the deepest level. I began this album over 2 years ago. Thought I had it all figured out. Not just the record - its songs/sounds but my whole fucking life.

NO ONE checks an ego like life itself.

Just when I thought the body of work was finished it was ALL erased. Including ~~most~~ of the music's relevance. Because EVERYTHING had changed.

Nature did what I now see as a favor + destroyed what I couldn't let go of for myself. I lost my house in a fire but found myself in its ashes.

My collaborators still had most of the music that was burned up in journals/computers filled with songs for the EP series I was working on at the time. But it never felt right to release "my story" (each record being a continual autobiography) with a HUGE chapter missing. If it were a chapter in my book I guess I would call it - "The Beginning" which usually when something is over we call it ~~THE END~~ "The End". But it was far from that.

~~through~~ In triumph + gratitude I present to you my 7th studio record, Plastic Hearts. To be released 11/27/2020.

Well that's "the plan" anyway - Had one of those before ...
But seriously - its really coming. Think you'll love it - ~~if you don't~~ - Fuck you MC ~~XX~~