

MILEY CYRUS + DUA LIPA

“PRISONER”

WATCH HERE

LISTEN HERE

PLASTIC HEARTS* OUT NOVEMBER 27

November 19, 2020 - Artist and trailblazer Miley Cyrus teamed up with global pop superstar Dua Lipa for “Prisoner,” the highly anticipated second single from Miley’s seventh studio album, Plastic Hearts, out November 27th via RCA Records.

The dynamic duo joins forces for a shamelessly, campy rock video directed by Alana Oherlihy and Miley. In a true testament to girl power, these three women celebrate music in a way we have all been missing, inviting fans to join them in a 2020 “Runaways” style reunion.

Watch the video here

Listen to "Prisoner" here

Last week Miley revealed the track list for Plastic Hearts, which also included collaborations with Billy Idol and Joan Jett – see the full track list here

Earlier this month Miley unveiled "Edge of Midnight (Midnight Sky Remix)" feat. Stevie Nicks to rave reviews. Listen here

Pre order Plastic Hearts here now and receive five instant grat tracks, including "Edge of Midnight (Midnight Sky Remix)" feat. Stevie Nicks, "Prisoner" ft. Dua Lipa, Miley's summer hit, "Midnight Sky," and her critically acclaimed live covers of Blondie's "Heart of Glass" and The Cranberries' "Zombie," which are being referred to as the dawn of Miley Cyrus' best era, with her voice being hailed as perfectly suited for Rock & Roll. These raw and raucous renditions of classic hits that Miley has made her own are a taste of what is to come with her seventh studio album, Plastic Hearts, that includes 12 original songs.