ABOUT ALAN WALKER

Alan Walker has taken the world by storm since his debut single “Faded” in 2015. The young producer has an extensive following, with his YouTube being the world’s 10th biggest music channel and his Spotify account being one of the most followed accounts. Now boasting more than 50 billion audio and video streams, Alan Walker is considered one of the major stars within the electronic music scene. His successful singles and collaborations include internationally renowned artist like Sia, Steve Aoki, Avicii, Coldplay, Bruno Mars, A$AP Rocky, Ava Max, Kygo, Farruko, Miley Cyrus, Hans Zimmer, Madison Beer and more. In addition to his sold-out tours, Alan has entertained on major stages across the globe, including Coachella, Tomorrowland, Ultra Music Festival, Lollapalooza, Creamfields, EDC Las Vegas, Electronic Zoo and more.

ABOUT BOY IN SPACE

Sweden's leftfield pop innovator Boy In Space crafts emotionally charged songs that examine life in all of its chaotic and ridiculous beauty. His recent tracks, "Dance Alone" and "Cold," have accelerated his huge and still growing following, reaching 2 million monthly listeners at Spotify. That rise has been magnified by huge interest at tastemakers, earning the 26-year-old singer and songwriter widespread hype.

ABOUT K-391

K-391 is a Norwegian music producer most known for his collaboration on Alan Walker's single "Ignite" back in 2017 together with Julie Bergan and SEUNGRI. The song reached number one in Norway and has over 228 million streams. K-391 is the creation of the mysterious character K, a creative prodigy who birthed K-391 with an ambition to enable people's escape from reality through music. K-391 has toured all over the world – from performing at the Nobel Peace Prize concert in Oslo, to supporting Alan Walker on his US leg of the "Different World" tour.
