[New York, NY – September 9, 2021] Today, Nigerian-American sister duo VanJess announce the deluxe edition of their highly lauded ‘Homegrown’ EP out Friday, September 17th. The extended version of the project that earned praise from Vogue, Refinery29, Okayplayer, Galore and more, features five brand new tracks. See Full Track List below.

Additionally, VanJess released a new visual for their slinky single “Slow Down” feat. Lucky Daye. The sisters and their labelmate join forces for a video featuring hypnotic choreography and a palpable chemistry. The R&B radio single that’s amassed nearly ten million global streams is at the cusp of breaking Top 10.

'Homegrown' EP – the short yet expansive project – released earlier this year is the follow up to their debut album, 'Silk Canvas,' which caught the attention of critical gatekeepers for its unique soul/funk integration and careful collaborations. The project hosts a robust group of collaborators, including KAYTRANADA, Devin Morrison and Jimi Tents. From start to finish, the nine-song collection is a showcase of VanJess’ elevated vocal and visual stylings—a testament to the incredible heights they’ve reached since their debut album in 2018.

ABOUT VANJESS

Growing up between Nigeria and California, VanJess have brought an entirely new take to contemporary R&B, one that pays tribute to '90s greats like TLC, SWV, and Aaliyah, while instinctually inciting an inimitable style. The sisters cut their teeth online with a string of viral covers, bursting onto the scene with their self-released debut album, a definitive R&B statement, and a smooth, seductive record that took the R&B world by storm.

VanJess have previously worked with KAYTRANADA, Ari Lennox, and Xavier Omär, to name but a few, and recently have collaborated with some of their most acclaimed peers on songs including "Stickin'" (Sinead Harnett and Masego, who appeared on VanJess' 2018 debut LP), "Say Yes" (TOKiMONSTA) "I Had A Love Song" (Ant Saunders), and "Floating" (Mannywellz).
