In the midst of TOBi gearing up for his forthcoming bundle release, the 2021 Juno Award winner has been touring with Grammy Award-winning duo Brasstracks in support of their collaborative EP entitled Good Luck For Real – click here to listen. FLOOD Magazine proclaimed of the EP’s title track “...the powerful collaborative track ‘Good Luck for Real’ which combined what each respective player does best, with the emcee's cool verses proving as perfect a complement to Ivan Jackson and Conor Rayne's funky instrumental as one would imagine."

TOBi is currently working towards finishing his next full album project. Stay tuned for more music from TOBi coming soon.

About TOBi:

Nigerian-born, Toronto-based recording artist TOBi is the winner of the 2021 Juno Award for Best Rap Recording of the Year for his latest project Elements, Vol. 1. Elements blends hip-hop, R&B, soul, grime & Afrobeats and features some of TOBi's favorite producers & musicians worldwide, embodying the sounds and music that have influenced his artistry. Prior to this album, TOBi released his debut STILL in May 2019, exploring themes of vulnerability, post-traumatic growth, self-reflection and masculinity in his time emigrating from Nigeria to Canada.

Voted by Complex Magazine as "a top artist to watch" TOBi has received critical praise from Interview Magazine, Pitchfork, Vogue, Teen Vogue, L'Officiel, Paper, Billboard, Rolling Stone, Clash, OkayAfrica, Flaunt, Exclaim!, Refinery29, Essential Homme, COLORS, and many more.

His latest single "Whoa" with fellow Torontonians rappers Jazz Cartier and J. Cole was released to critical praise. "Whoa" follows a slew of tracks released over the summer including "Off The Drugs" with Mick Jenkins, "Come As You Are" featuring Baby Rose and "Don't Touch!," which was praised by Complex for its "smooth production...elevating [TOBi's] empowered musings on the hairy side of the Black experience to new heights."

In 2020, TOBi signed with Same Plate Entertainment/RCA Records and has garnered over 50 million streams globally.
