ANNOUNCES DEBUT EP RAPUNZEL COMING JANUARY 21, 2022

(New York, NY - December 3, 2021) – Today, RCA Records announces the signing of 22-year-old singer/songwriter dhruv. In celebration of the announcement dhruv releases a new track "stable life" (listen here). "stable life" was written by dhruv and produced by Sam Ricci (SZA, Kendrick Lamar) and will be featured on his debut EP rapunzel due out on January 21, 2022.

"rapunzel is a scrapbook I've kept during a really important few years of personal growth," says dhruv. "The title is in reference to a lyric in the closing track, which talks about our childhood selves often being our least inhibited and truest selves. In many ways, I think this project is about me trying to find that version of myself."

Earlier this year, dhruv released the music video for his debut track "double take" which Paper Magazine said the song had, "a timeless message so many can connect with." The track which initially was released in 2019 has over 170 million streams on Spotify and is continuing to grow globally after making its chart entrance on Billboard's Global Excl. US Chart back in August. Dhruv also released his other tracks "moonlight" and "vulnerable" in 2020, both of which give a glimpse into what his debut project will sound like and garnered some early fans with NME, Ones To Watch and more.

About dhruv

22-year old artist dhruv had written hundreds of songs on his bedroom piano by the time he started uploading demos to the internet in 2017. Raised in Singapore, with roots in India and the UK, dhruv grew up on an eclectic mix of Bollywood songs, 2000s pop radio and Frank Ocean.
