"Me and Khalid always talked about doing another song, so I sent this idea to him and he loved it," says Marshmello. "I was super happy when I asked him if he wanted to do the song and he said yes because the song is a little different vibe for him, but I knew he would crush it. He sent it to me the next day and I immediately knew we had one with this."

"Mello and I have a great friendship and when we get together to make music it's always great vibes," says Khalid. "'Silence' is a fan favorite that I love performing so continuing our collaborations with 'Numb' is something that I'm looking forward to."
